SUNDAY REFLECTION

Eleventh Sunday in Ordinary Time

First Reading, 2 Samuel 12: 7-10, 13 God's judgment on David for taking another man's wife

Psalms 32, A prayer for forgiveness

Second Reading, Galatians 2: 16, 19-21 We are justified through faith in Jesus Christ

Gospel, Luke 7: 36-8:3 A sinful woman anoints Jesus' feet.

Before Lent began we were reading Luke's version of the Sermon on the Mount, which is known as the Sermon on the Plain. Today's Gospel passage is taken from the following chapter of Luke's Gospel. The concern of this chapter, as well as in Chapters 8 and 9, is Jesus' identity as the Messiah, one who is greater than a prophet. Throughout the chapter Jesus has been performing miracles similar to those done by Old Testament prophets. When John the Baptist sent some of his disciples to Jesus to ask who he was, Jesus listed the miracles they had seen him perform and then compared himself with John the Baptist to show that he was greater than John. In today's Gospel Jesus sits down to eat a meal at the house of Simon, a Pharisee. A sinful woman approaches him, falls to her knees, wets his feet with her tears, dries them with her hair, and then anoints them with oil. A similar scene occurs in the other three Gospels, but in those versions the anointing takes place in Bethany, near Jerusalem, before Passover. In the other three Gospels, this anointing is related to his being proclaimed king by the crowds when he entered Jerusalem. It also related to his being anointed as a preparation for his burial. In Luke the anointing takes place north in Galilee, early in his ministry. This reading is characteristic of the Gospel of Luke, the gospel of the compassion of Christ. The longer version of the gospel reading continues with Luke 8:1-3 and its references to the women disciples of Jesus. The focus of this story is on the woman's loving response to being forgiven. Awareness of God's forgiveness through the presence of Jesus leads her to demonstrate her love in an intimate way. The forgiveness of God in Christ cannot be earned by good works, but is freely given to those who are aware of their sin and seek it. Simon the Pharisee, despite his virtue, is less aware of his need for forgiveness, and consequently less loving. In Luke it is often the unlikely person who provides the most powerful example.

Am I aware of my need for forgiveness? Do I realise that forgiveness can never be earned, but that it is freely given by God?

We pray here at St. Peter's for the gift of gratitude for God's patience and love. We pray for those who see God as demanding and unforgiving.
